

COMMERCIAL CASE STUDY

ANNANDALE WATER SERVICE STATION.

Project Summary

This service station services both carriageways of the M74 Motorway and is a very busy place!

The Story team were asked to carry out the internal & external decoration and could have only achieved completion due to the positive relationship our team had with the client. Many meetings took place to arrange works around the existing facilities' opening hours & we had to ensure we worked collaboratively with them to ensure there was no disruption caused during the works, this involved the arrangement of nightshift and weekend working. The relationship between our site supervisor, the main contractor and the client was fantastic and aided by ensuring we left working areas tidy & clean during & after work intervals.

The project was not without its difficulties including internal painting of the large wooden ceiling and external high areas. We overcame this by utilising STAR10 MEWPS internally and a large cherry picker externally.

Health and safety was of paramount importance on this project as the service area was still operational at the time of decoration. We ensured barriers & signage were in place & we also had a banksman on the floor at all times ensuring the public were safe and the machines were safely manoeuvred.
